

Please DO NOT grant the Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) petition to challenge Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. This would weaken the protections afforded to Indiana residents to be free of nuisance calls within their homes. I do business with one of the banks in the CBA, and I am very disappointed to note that they have supported this initiative. I have been very pleased with this law as it now stands, and I do not want to receive additional calls from any business. If I want to contact a business, I will call them myself. I never accept telephone solicitations, and this law has not decreased the amount of business I do in this state. This law has eliminated these annoying calls to my home, and I do not want them to resume!!! Please take into account the desires of the people of Indiana when making this decision. The overwhelming majority of the citizens of Indiana support this law in its current form, and we do not want it to be weakened by the federal government (in the form of the FCC).
